

Below are some resources that can be used to supplement instruction for Spanish:

Duolingo: <https://www.duolingo.com/course/es/en/Learn-Spanish-Online> and <http://bots.duolingo.com/>

Duolingo is a free online resource for Spanish instruction. Instruction is given through games and online interactions. Additionally, they have recently added an Artificial Intelligence Bots that allow you to practice dialogue via text message.

Spanish Tutors: Many parents have expressed interest in hiring a Spanish tutor for their student. Some have found this to be effective. We do not make recommendations of specific tutors, but it is an option if you want to explore that.

Rosetta Stone: <http://www.rosettastone.com/> Rosetta Stone is a popular computer software program for language acquisition. There are various costs depending on what level of service you are purchasing.

Enroll in a MOOC (Massive Open Online Course): MOOCs have gained in popularity over the past 5 years. These are actual college courses open to all individuals for free from some of the world's best universities. There are multiple organizations, edX, Coursera, and others that offer instruction from Stanford, Harvard, UC Berkeley, etc.
