

The Fallon Parent Faculty Club Presents

a Book Club for Parents and Teachers of Middle School Students

Join other Fallon parents and teachers for a discussion of Jessica Lahey's best-selling book about how we can develop independence, resilience, and lasting confidence in our children.

Order a copy from your favorite bookseller or borrow a copy from the Fallon Middle School library!

Thursday, January 12th at 7:00 p.m. in the Fallon Library

Please let us know you are planning to attend by registering here:

<https://goo.gl/forms/99mFE8kUrk5ExRK42>

"I have a son entering middle school this fall, so The Gift of Failure by Jessica Lahey was a gift to me. With common-sense advice on how to stand back and let your children learn through their mistakes—including an entire chapter on navigating the hormone-drenched middle school years—this book is one of my new favorite parenting manuals. Lahey is a warm, engaging writer who spent years in the trenches as a middle school Latin and English teacher. She advocates a lovingly hands-off approach that instills confidence from an early age."

— Amy Scribner for BookPage